Wabasha

Wabasha was the setting of the movies Grumpy Old Men and Grumpier Old Men. These movies were written by Mark Steven Johnson about his grandfather, Wabasha native Charles Gilbert. None of the scenes were actually filmed in Wabasha.

Wabasha County is in the center of The Flyway, a path traveled by bald eagles during the winter.

Lake City was the home of the inventor of waterskiing, Ralph Samuelson, which is why the city is known as "The Birthplace of Waterskiing."
